

While Joyce has two daughters by previous marriages [redacted] and [redacted], both are highly intimidated by [redacted] and the youngest, now in her 30s, admits to having been abused by [redacted] for a number of years while she lived under the same roof with him (see a copy of her email, attached, for details). I believe both are so scared of him, and have been for some time, that they will have a very difficult time sharing the truth. But some of this will be evident in the attached material.

As adult next of kin of Joyce, and her only advocates at this time, Carolyn and I seek your help in making sure Joyce's death is properly investigated. Because of the starvation and heavy drug administration, Joyce was totally helpless to defend herself for several months preceding and at the time of her death; likewise, Joyce was not oriented to time, place, or person. Please give Joyce this one last chance before her body is returned to the earth.

Respectfully,
