Dear A/C,

I wish you and I kept in touch more over the years, but we obviously can't go back in time. Very happy we have started to keep in touch now, that's what matters.

As far as [redacted] is concerned I know [redacted] better than anyone other than mom, the abuse started just after Deby left the house. Both mom and I were abused by him mentally, physically and emotionally.

The last day I lived there I was thrown around pretty bad trying to break up a usual fight between them, (I always played the decoy, so he would run after me so he'd get off of mom) as I was leaving I looked at mom and she turned her head the other way, I will never forget it. I spent years (from 6th grade on) trying to encourage her to leave, that she was much better off without him. She always said "I dont want to be alone".

I could never go to the police because I feared for the both of us and he was a cop. Never confided in anyone because I feared for my life if someone told. Deby had her own family at the time and didnt get involved, I confided in her a few times but she just said to put my stereo headphones on or to go out.

There are so many BAD memories in that house its not even funny. The way you felt in the house for that week was the way I felt 24/7. You got immune to it after a while when you have no choice believe it or not. Her miscarriages I blame him for. I intervened a fight in the kitchen, found mom laying on the floor she was pregnant at the time.... I could go on and on.

I went through alot of therapy which helped tremendously, I learned that I need to look out for me first and be there for my mom which I always have and always will be. But recently she has shut me out I was her best friend. But I have always blamed myself for not picking up that damn phone and calling the police, this could have been overwith years ago and mom wouldnt have changed. Mom would have denied everything once the police showed up though....then I would have gotten killed for telling!

[redacted] will not let anyone get close to mom and she knows the consequences if she does. She has never had a relationship with [redacted] and wouldn't have with [redacted] either. [redacted] and I are lucky we are allowed to see or speak to mom. The day pop left I could almost guarantee you she got it from him but good cause she knows pop left cause of him. She confronted him on it, I know it!

Now she went back to the hospital for several fractures in her back: this week, she says from getting up from the kitchen table. Pepper ironically has been having alot of diarrhea cause [redacted] switbed dog food cause she had a body odor. Im sure if mom didnt somehow pick it up in the house all hell would break loose. I just spoke to her tonight. I said "Mom getting up from the kitchen table or getting up from off the floor for not picking up Peppers diarrhea" She said "Dont start now [redacted] please" I changed the subject to a more pleasant conversation.

When mom used to come up here for a week visit, she would just sit at my kitchen table by herself the whole week. She wasn't visiting with me she was visiting herself and I loved it!!! Does that make sense?

Oh yeah I did confide in nana once and ya know she knew! I will never forget it. I told her [redacted] is mean to mom and I. Her response was " You need to be strong and always remember you are loved by your family" That was all that was said, none of her business I presume is what she thought....

Sorry to unleash all this on you in an email but enough is enough that son of a bitch will learn the hard way someday! He destroyed my mother and most of my life. This game is played to keep the peace for mom otherwise his ass would have been locked up a long time ago. I dont care what happened to him as a child!

Talk soon?
